

Player Development Programs

Glenmoor Academy proudly provides Player Development Golf Programs for juniors and adults. All participants must start at Level 0 or 1 and receive an instructor sign-off to graduate and move on to the next program level. With special exception, some students can start at Level 2. Repeating a level is common.

By signing up for a player program, all students are required to practice on their own time on top of our program sessions. The first day of each program series will be a mandatory player orientation to go over schedule, payment, program expectations, policies, necessities, get-to-know-you, etc.
